THE OFFICIAL 1984 MIAMI DOLPHINS YEARBOOK

Inaugural Issue

Why do these Dolphins shop at a place called The Baseball Card Store?

It's easy. The Baseball Card Store has South Florida's largest selection of NFL memorabilia and collectibles. Of course, they specialize in Miami Dolphin souvenirs, something that's near and dear to the hearts of these gentlemen.

The best dressed Dolphins and Dol-fans are gearing up at The Baseball Card Store. There are hats, jerseys, sweats, shirts, windbreakers, jackets, and scarves. There are literally hundreds of items including pennants, pins, lamps, key-chains, seat cushions, pillows, party goods, waste cans, and much much more.

So, don't let our name fool you.

JOE ROBBIE

"WHAT MAKES THE MAN TICK"

By Rick Weaver*

Any business organization, and this includes professional football teams, is a direct reflection of its leadership. The Dolphins are a positive force in South Florida and in the National Football League, because of Joe Robbie. The team is a reflection of Mr. Robbie's thinking. He has left no stone unturned in providing South Floridians with the very best, on and off the field. There has been no other owner like Joe Robbie in professional football. Without his daring, unbounding energy and pronounced tenacity, there would be no professional football in South Florida. Others before him tried and failed.

Let's take a look at some of the other things at which Mr. Robbie has tried and succeeded. Maybe from there we will gain an insight into what makes "the man tick."

1. Ran for governor in his home state of South Dakota, Chairman of that state's Democratic party.
2. An outstanding trial lawyer in Minneapolis-St. Paul, devoting a substantial part of his practice to defending those unable to pay.
3. Served as a naval officer in World War II, volunteering for service the day after Pearl Harbor. Recipient of the Bronze Star.
4. Served as student body president at not one, but two, universities.

In addition, Joe Robbie has aided numerous charities over the years to the extent of $2,000,000.00, one of the more intentionally unpublicized activities of his life. Received awards from St. Judes Research Hospital, Variety Children's Hospital and Big Brothers-Big Sisters plus the prestigious Horatio Alger Award. Mr. Robbie's life epitomizes several things:

1. A genuine love for his fellow man
2. Struggle and hard work
3. Achievement

Joe Robbie has always believed that if you don't try, you will never know if you can achieve success. He is a bit of a gambler who has tried a bit of everything. Mr. Robbie's favorite verse will never be written on his tombstone, "He was a very cautious man, who never romped or played. He never drank, he never smoked, nor even kissed a maid. And when he upped and passed away, insurance was denied. For since he had never lived, they claimed he never died."

There are scores of letters in Robbie's file from appreciative recipients of his philosophy, but perhaps the sense and tone of them all was captured by a young Sioux Indian who wrote that on the day he had been told that he had won a Robbie College Scholarship, he had taken a long walk alone on his reservation and wondered "How does Joe Robbie even know I am here?" To Joe Robbie, the struggle itself is equally important and rewarding to the ultimate achievement.

Not only is Joe Robbie the Miami Dolphins, he is a very nice guy. He has an insight as to why he is here on this earth that many of us have not realized. The reason is — to help his fellow man. And that, according to my opinion of Joe Robbie, is what his life is all about.

Don Shula

"The Winning Edge"

By Steve Hummer
West Palm Beach Post
Sports Editor

Control. You've never met a man in such total control. Here is the one person who has custom-designed his life, tooled it until every detail jumps to his touch.

In the home lockerroom, any given post game, when the whole scene wants to be a swirl of confusion and contusion, there is nothing but order. The press is herded through a narrow chute into an Orange Bowl backroom. There, writers gather around the subject, shifting from foot to foot, waiting for pronouncements. A television light intrudes.

"I'll get that later," says Don Shula firmly.

And the light goes off, as if Shula had pulled the plug himself. Everyone, even a press that in other cities can be baying, answers to his will.

"He's in charge of his life probably more than anyone I know," Bob Kuechenberg, the greybeard Miami Dolphins' guard, has said of his coach. "He's the commander. He's the boss."

This is to introduce the perfect football coach, Don Shula.

The record is there to support the claim, if you care to reduce such things to numbers. That's 226-89-6 over 21 seasons of professional leadership. That's standing as author of the only perfect season, 17-0 in 1972, and performer in five Super Bowls, winning two of them.

Deeper than that, though, goes the relationship between the man and his game. All the way to his soul. Every quality that is needed to move a football — control, consistency, confidence — is a quality that Shula wears as easily as a wristwatch. He lives his life as if he is always working the clock for one more first down.

The man is so much football that he should begin every morning propped up on a tee.

"I enjoy doing what I'm doing, and there aren't many people who get the opportunity to work at something they enjoy," said Shula.

"Every time a new contract comes up," he said, "I take all that into consideration. I still like the meetings, I still like working with the players on the field, and most of all, I still like the excitement of the games."

As Shula once described his own inner drive, "The closer I get to the stadium, the faster I walk."

He has it all, a dream supposedly satisfied. He is the most powerful man in his profession; he has raised a responsible family with one son a junior member of the firm; he is such a community presence that Miami named a tollway after him; and he is richer with the signing of a new contract in the middle of last season. Still he storms ahead, basically because that is what he was born to do.

Always straight ahead. His is the way of shutting off all outside forces that conflict with his view of football. He can manage that as simply as he handled a scruffy Rolling Stone reporter who asked after the Dolphins' Super Bowl VIII victory over Minnesota, "Coach, how many of your players use dope?"

"Get this guy outta here," Shula responded.

Always straight ahead. Last season while he and team owner Joe Robbie were doing a contract dance, the story emerged about a rich offer to jump to the New Jersey Generals of the United States Football League. It broke just before the Dolphins were to pound the Colts in Baltimore, and all the questions to the coach afterward concerned contract, not victory.

Irked, Shula the next day announced that he had no intention of taking the Generals' offer, passing off $1 million a year and a fancy address as nothing more than distractions to be eliminated.

The Shula plan is a simple one, impossibly difficult to deliver. Consistency is key. Every practice is run with a mechanical sameness, and while that does little to stir the imagination, it has made the Dolphins traditionally the least penalized team in football. To prove the value of this way, the coach almost leads his life as if it is a demonstration.

"There are so many similarities between football and family life and business and industry," Shula said.

"With family and with players," he continued, "you must be consistent so there is credibility. Anytime your credibility is questioned, you cannot lead."

His most basic habits reinforce Shula's image.

"I am a meat eater," is his dinner table declaration. Of course, the perfect coach must be a carnivore.

He reads only one pleasure book a year during the offseason, selected carefully by his daughter, Sharon.

"If I try to read during the season, I always feel I should be doing something else," Shula said. If he watches a movie, it usually stars Joe Ferguson or Chris Ward or Raymond Clayborn.

Pursuits are mostly physical, as it should be with a man who always has been defined as either a player or a coach. Shula runs 30 minutes a day, and given time, he will play tennis or golf. A new case of tennis elbow, however, slowed him this offseason.

"Now I have all the excuses in the world," Shula jokes.

There are no hints of great complexities or vast depth to the components of his success. Shula, who teaches his game with clarity and simple purpose, gives out more personal lessons in the same manner.

"I try to do the best job that I can every day," he said. "I have my ups and downs in personal life and coaching, but I live with them."

"Each and every day, give it your best shot."

Another writer described the essence of being Don Shula thusly: "He has the burden of replenishing his own legend." Understand, that is a full-time job.

Dolphins Coaching Staff

TOM KEANE

Defensive Backs

21st NFL Season, 19th with Dolphins

Born: September 7, 1926

Some men "have seen it all," and on the subject of Miami Dolphin football, Tom Keane has . . . literally. Keane joined the expansion Dolphins in 1966 and has been molding great defensive backfields ever since. In fact, among NFL assistant coaches, only Dallas' Ernie Stautner (1966-83) can claim to have labored for one team as long as Keane has.

Keane's charges had another successful season in 1983. Faced with the season-long loss of top cornerback Don McNeal, Keane molded a top-notch unit that ranked in the NFL's top quarter in both interceptions and pass defense. In the strike-shortened 1982 campaign, Miami DB's boasted 33 interceptions in nine regular season plus four playoff games (2.36 per contest). Since joining the Dolphins, Keane-led defensive backfields have averaged an impressive 22 interceptions per season. The Dolphins led the NFL in interceptions in 1978 (32), finished second in the AFL in that initial '66 season (31), and in 1973, allowed only five touchdown passes en route to a Super Bowl crown.

The 58-year-old Keane was an All-Pro safety for the Baltimore Colts in 1953, a season he intercepted a Colt record 11 passes. In 1952, Keane picked off ten passes, posted a 42.8-yard punting average, and held the ball for Bert Rechichar's 56-yard field goal that stood as an NFL record for 17 years.

Keane started as a freshman quarterback and tailback for Ohio State's undefeated 1944 club, then served 20 months for the U.S. Navy, stationed in the South Pacific. Upon his return, he enrolled at the University of West Virginia, playing two seasons for the Mountaineers. Keane skipped his senior season to be drafted by Los Angeles, and played for them from 1948-51. He was then traded to the Dallas Texans (1952), continuing with that franchise when it moved to Baltimore (1953-54). After spending the 1955 season with the Chicago Cardinals, Keane suffered a career-ending knee injury while tackling Tank Younger in a '56 pre-season game.

His coaching career began in 1957 with the Cardinals, then continued in 1960 with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League. From 1961-64, Keane was head coach and general manager of the United Football League's Wheeling Ironmen, leading them to a pair of league titles. He joined the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1965 before being named to George Wilson's Dolphin staff in '66.

Tom and his wife Mary (married 7/5/52) live in Miami. The Keanes have two daughters, Candice (3/30/53) and Mary (2/21/67), and two sons, Tom (5/27/56) and Tim (2/13/60).

BOB MATHESON

Special Teams, Linebackers

2nd NFL Season, 2nd with Dolphins

Born: November 25, 1944

Bob Matheson, one of the most affable men to ever wear a Miami Dolphin uniform, returned to the club in February, 1983 as an assistant coach for special teams and linebackers. And in his first year patrolling the Miami sidelines, Matheson had a positive effect. On special teams, kick returner Fulton Walker led the NFL with a 26.7-yard average while rookie punter Reggie Roby and "hit man" Robert Sowell also excelled on "specials."

Matheson was an NFL linebacker from 1967-79 for the Cleveland Browns and the Dolphins. A first round draft pick of the Browns in 1967, Matheson played for them for four seasons before being dealt to Miami for a second round draft pick in September, 1971. He became a very valuable weapon in the Dolphin defense's situational substitutions, being used as a fourth linebacker in passing situations with the option to blitz the quarterback or drop back into pass coverage. The now-famous "53 Defense" was named, not only for Matheson's jersey number, but also for the five short zones and three deep zones in the pass defense that the system created.

Matheson's 137 total games still rank as the most ever played by a Dolphin linebacker. He led the team in tackles in 1974, was the club's Linebacker of the Year in '75, and had a career-high 130 tackles in '77. Matheson participated in three Super Bowls during his Dolphin tenure.

Matheson earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors during his collegiate career at Duke University (1964-66). In '66, he set a school record for tackles while also being tabbed on several major All-America teams. In 1981, he returned to Duke as the Blue Devils' linebacker coach before joining the Dolphins in '83.

Bob and his wife Pam (married 6/17/67) live in Hollywood with their two sons Todd (9/19/70) and Drew (8/24/73), and daughter Jill (1/21/77).

JOHN SANDUSKY

Offense, Offensive Line

26th NFL Season, 9th with Dolphins

Born: December 28, 1925

The "old pro" of the Miami Dolphin coaching staff, John Sandusky is entering his 26th season as an NFL coach, five years more service than any other member of Miami's veteran staff. Despite his assistant coaching "title" of Offense/Offensive Line, Sandusky is also quite knowledgeable about defense, having spent seven of his 25 seasons coaching the other side of the line of scrimmage.

The 1983 season was a productive one for the Miami offense as the team averaged over 23 points per game. The Sandusky-tutored offensive line had an excellent season, allowing just 23 quarterback sacks, the fewest in the NFL. In addition, four of the Dolphins' offensive linemen received post-season honors ranging from All-Pro to the Pro Bowl.

The 57-year-old Sandusky joined the Dolphins in 1976 after spending three seasons (1973-75) as an assistant coach for the Philadelphia Eagles. Prior to that, he was a coach for the Baltimore Colts from 1959-72, including the 1963-69 seasons under then-Colt Head Coach Don Shula. When Shula moved to Miami in 1970, he attempted, but was unable, to bring Sandusky with him. Sandusky was on the Colt staff for their two Super Bowl appearances in games III and V.

When Don McCafferty was fired as Baltimore's head coach after winning only one of the first five games in 1972, Sandusky became the Colt boss and led his charges to four victories in their final nine games. Two of Sandusky's losses that season were to Shula's undefeated Dolphin team.

Sandusky was an All-America tackle at Villanova University (1946-49) before joining the NFL's Cleveland Browns in 1950. He played both offensive and defensive tackle in six seasons in Cleveland as the Browns made it to the NFL title game in all six of those campaigns (three wins). Sandusky then played one year (1956) with the Green Bay Packers before beginning his coaching career at Villanova (1957-58).

Sandusky has the unique distinction of having served in four different capacities in the now-defunct College All-Star game in Chicago. He played (1950) and coached (1958) for the All-Stars, and also played (1951, 1955) and coached (1969, 1971) for the NFL championship team that annually opposed the collegians.

John and his wife Ruth (married 3/31/51) live in Cooper City. They have three sons, Jack (1/4/52), James (6/21/53), and Gerry (9/5/61), and a daughter named Ruth (10/5/55). Another son, Joe, died in 1978 of complications from pneumonia while a sophomore at Tulsa University.

Dolphins Coaching Staff

MIKE SCARRY

Defensive Line, Run Defense

19th NFL Season, 15th with Dolphins

Born: February 1, 1920

Mike Scarry's coaching career began in 1948 and now 36 years later, he remains one of the most knowledgeable and respected men in the profession. Scarry's charges have included past Dolphin stars like Bill Stanfill, Manny Fernandez, Vern Den Herder, and Bob Heinz; current starters Bob Baumhower, Doug Betters, and Kim Bokamper; plus up-and-coming youngsters Mike Charles and Charles Benson.

Scarry's defensive line was "puttin' on the blitz" again in 1983 as the Dolphins set a team record with 49 quarterback sacks (third in the AFC). In addition, Betters (Associated Press) and Baumhower (Pro Football Weekly) were each named NFL Defensive Lineman of the Year by varying polls. Under Scarry, the Dolphins have allowed just 65 rushing touchdowns in their last 89 regular-season games over the past six seasons (1978-83). In 1979, Miami kept opponents under 100 yards rushing on nine occasions, finishing with a miserly 106.4-yard average yield. All told, Dolphin defenders have gone over the 40-sack mark on four occasions (1973, '75, '78, and '83) during Scarry's tenure, and also led the NFL in shutouts (14) during the 1970's.

"Mo" joined Don Shula's Dolphin staff in 1970 after serving as a San Francisco 49er scout during the '69 season. His first professional coaching experience came with the Washington Redskins under Otto Graham from 1966-68.

Scarry enjoyed an 18-year college coaching career with stops at Western Reserve (1948-49), Santa Clara (1950-52), Loras College (1953), Washington State (1954-55), Cincinnati (1956-62), and Waynesburg College (1963-65). At Western Reserve, he also served as the school's head basketball coach (1946-50), and at Waynesburg, he was athletic director, head coach in football and basketball, and even served as the school's trainer. During his football head coaching tenure at Waynesburg, his Yellow Jackets posted a 17-8-1 record, including a pair of West Penn Conference titles. In addition, he recruited the undefeated Waynesburg squad that won the NAIA championship in 1966. Scarry is a member of the NAIA, Waynesburg College, and Western Pennsylvania Halls of Fame.

Scarry's playing days began at Waynesburg where he was a center and a linebacker from 1939-41. He has the distinction of having played in the first-ever televised football game between Waynesburg and Fordham in '39. After a two-year Army stint, Scarry joined (and captained) the Cleveland Rams from 1944-45. When the Rams left for Los Angeles, he signed with the Cleveland Browns of the All-America Football Conference (1946-47), captaining them as well, and being named All-Pro in '46.

A native of Duquesne, Pennsylvania, Mike and his wife Elizabeth (married 1/27/43) live in Miami. They have raised eight children, Sally Beth (1/2/45), Mike (6/22/47), Patricia (7/22/49), Tom (3/6/51), Maggie (7/24/53), John (10/26/54), Jim (10/25/55), and Dennis (7/27/59).

DAVID SHULA

Receivers

3rd NFL Season, 3rd with Dolphins

Born: May 28, 1959

The youngest assistant coach in the NFL, 25-year-old David Shula attained permanent status on the Dolphin coaching staff in January, 1983 following a one month temporary assignment to replace Wally English. At the time of his hiring, Shula was a first-year law student, and thus had to decide whether to pursue a legal or a coaching career.

In his first full season, Shula's hard work and desire helped lead to the development of several of Miami's young receivers. Most notable of that group is Mark Duper who worked closely with Shula during the '82 post-season. In 1983, Duper posted the first 1000 yard receiving campaign in Dolphin history. In addition, '83 rookie Mark Clayton emerged as an outstanding young pass-catcher.

Shula spent one season (1981) as a return specialist/wide receiver for the Baltimore Colts, leading the club in punt returns. On September 27, 1981, "Shula Met Shula" as son David's Colt club competed against father Don's Dolphin team.

Shula was a two-time All-Ivy League selection at Dartmouth and holds all major Big Green receiving records including most career catches (133) and most career receiving yardage (1822). He started every game during his varsity career, and as a senior, caught 52 passes (school record) for 758 yards. Shula was also a four-sport letterman at Hollywood's Chaminade High School.

David and his wife Leslie (married 6/5/82) live in Miami with their son Danny (10/9/83).

CHUCK STUDLEY

Defense

16th NFL Season, 1st with Dolphins

Born: January 17, 1929

Chuck Studley was appointed the Dolphins' defensive coach last December 27, replacing Bill Arnsparger who left to become the head coach at Louisiana State University. Replacing "Arns" will be a tough job, but from early indications, Studley appears up to the task.

Studley began the 1983 season as the Defensive Coordinator for the Houston Oilers. Following the team's 0-6 start, Head Coach Ed Biles resigned on October 10, with Studley being tabbed as Interim Head Coach. He took over the undermanned Oilers, guiding them to upsets over Detroit and Cleveland, and nearly one over Miami. Studley's Oilers led Shula's Dolphins in the fourth quarter of their December 4 Astrodomer encounter before the visitors finally prevailed, 24-17.

Prior to his service in Houston, Studley spent the 1979-82 seasons as the defensive coordinator for the San Francisco 49ers. The '81 49er squad went "all the way," capturing Super Bowl XVI with a victory over the Cincinnati Bengals. Before heading to California, Studley had been a Bengal assistant for ten seasons (1969-78).

Studley, born in Maywood, Illinois, was an All-America guard at the University of Illinois (1949-51), captaining their undefeated 1951 team that went to the Rose Bowl. He began his coaching career at Alton (Ill.) High School (1952-54) before returning to his alma mater to coach the Fighting Illini (1955-59). As a head coach, he led the University of Massachusetts to a Yankee Conference championship in 1960, then spent eight years at the helm of the University of Cincinnati, helping the Bearcats to a pair of Missouri Valley titles.

Chuck and his wife Peggy (married 6/24/50) live in Miami Lakes. They have six children, Carole (10/6/51), Doug (4/6/53), Susan (5/2/57), David (5/17/59), Mike (12/21/60), and Steve (9/17/62).

CARL TASEFF

Offensive Backs

18th NFL Season, 15th with Dolphins

Born: September 28, 1928

Carl Taseff is entering his 15th season in charge of the Miami offensive backfield. During those years, Taseff's stable of backs has included such past Dolphin greats as Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick, and Mercury Morris, plus current standouts Tony Nathan and Andra Franklin. Under Taseff's clever guidance, Dolphin offensive backfields have changed along with the team's strengths, going from the ground-oriented attack of the '70's to the more explosive air game unveiled in 1983. In fact, in the eight-year span from 1970-77, Taseff's backs ranked fifth or higher in NFL rushing on seven occasions.

Taseff came to Miami in 1970, the first season of the Don Shula Era, after spending two years working for the CEPO scouting combine (1968-69). Prior to that, he had coaching stints with the AFL's Boston Patriots (1964) and the NFL's Detroit Lions (1965-66).

As a player, Taseff was a star running back at Cleveland's John Carroll University, scoring 22 touchdowns in 1950. He began his pro career in 1951 with his hometown Cleveland Browns before beginning a nine-year term (1953-61) with the Baltimore Colts. A comeback for the Colts, Taseff set a team record with a 90-yard punt return for a touchdown against Green Bay (10/14/56). He holds an NFL record with a 99-yard return of a Walt Michaels field goal attempt against the Rams (12/12/59). After the Colts, Taseff played the latter part of the '61 season for Philadelphia before winding up his playing career with Buffalo in 1962. Overall, Taseff's career stats show 112 punt returns for 826 yards . . . and no fumbles.

Taseff and Shula's relationship dates back to their college days when they played in the same backfield together for Coach Herb Eisele's John Carroll squad. They were also roommates while both played for Cleveland (1951-52) and Baltimore (1953-56).

Carl and his wife Lucy (married 11/18/78) live in Pembroke Pines. He has two daughters, Cynthia Sue (1/25/56) and Susan (12/1/59) by a previous marriage.

JUNIOR WADE

Strength and Flexibility

10th NFL Season, 10th with Dolphins

Born: February 2, 1947

On February 15, 1983, Dolphin Head Coach Don Shula promoted Junior Wade to the position of Assistant Coach in charge of Strength and Flexibility. After serving eight years as the club's assistant trainer, it was a just reward for the hard-working Wade. As a trainer, Wade had long had the respect of the Dolphin players for his knowledge and his willingness to boost player morale by putting himself through the same rigorous rehabilitation as that prescribed for injured Dolphins.

Wade who also helps Assistant Coach Bob Matheson with the Miami special teams, first joined the Dolphins as a training camp assistant for the 1973-74 pre-seasons. He was hired by the Dolphins on a full-time basis in time for the 1975 campaign. Wade's past job experience includes having worked as an athletic trainer and guidance counselor at Fayetteville State and as the trainer for the St. Louis Cardinals' baseball farm team in Orangeburg, South Carolina.

Wade, was also the head baseball coach and assistant trainer at Davidson College. In 1975, he led the Wildcats to a 21-15 record, the best mark the school had ever posted. A three-year letterman himself at South Carolina State, Wade also earned his master's degree in education.

Junior, a native of Bath, South Carolina, lives in Hialeah with his wife Constance (married 12/13/70) and sons Aaron (2/25/72), and Jason (2/24/80).

Miami Dolphin fans and supporters are being asked to join Miami Dolphins' management as the featured team in a drive to privately finance the finest open-air sports stadium in the nation.

It is a unique effort.

Never before has the owner of a major sports franchise attempted to finance such a major facility — a 73,000-seat, $90 million stadium with 16,000 parking spaces, from the sale of executive suites and club seats.

Dolphins' owner Joseph Robbie said, "We approached this project with realistic skepticism because of the difficulty of building an otherwise public facility from private resources. We have now found an effective plan that can accomplish the financing of a new stadium from private funds.

"BUT THE KERNEL OF THIS PLAN IS THE SUCCESSFUL MARKETING OF THE EXECUTIVE SUITES AND CLUB SEATS."

There is no doubt that the entire effort will be an adventure, as well as a test of the free enterprise system which inherently has built into it both the "right to succeed" and the "right to fail."

In effect, the effort is a high stakes game of planning, finance and construction played out on a field where the game plan calls for the Dolphin coaches and players to watch from the sidelines while Dolphin fans and supporters team to perform with Dolphin management.

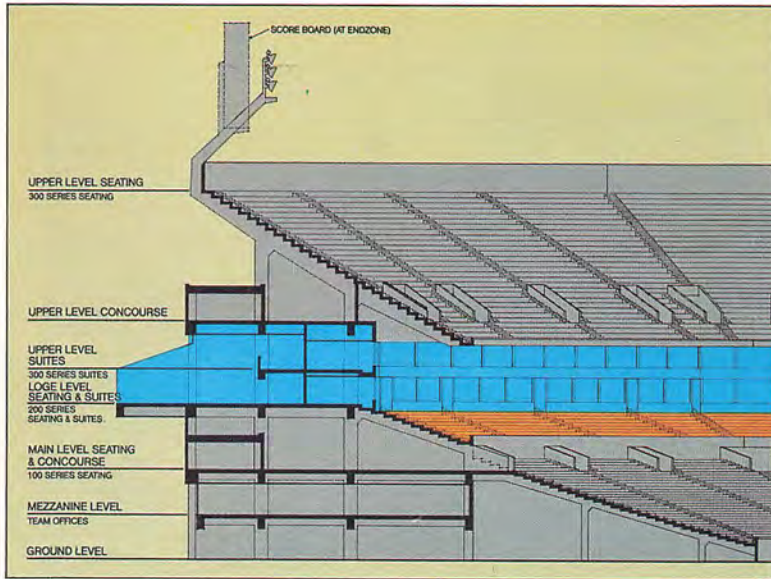

The stadium will feature an intermediate, exclusive access, loge level concourse serving two tiers of executive suites surrounding the entire perimeter of the stadium, and also serving up to 10,000 luxury club seats surrounding the stadium perimeter.

The 234 executive suites will contain 10, 12, or 16 seats facing the playing field. Depending on location and size, suites will cost from $29,000 to $65,000 per year on a ten-year lease, with a deposit equivalent to a one-year lease fee required to reserve a respective suite.

All suites will be fully furnished, carpeted and air conditioned and will be equipped with lounge furniture, a refrigerator, lockable liquor cabinet, closed-circuit TV, an ice maker and optional telephone connections. Food and beverage service will be catered to the suites upon request prior to events.

FIRST & GOAL — 'DOLPHINS '87

Luxury club seats likewise will be leased for a ten-year period at prices ranging from $600 per year to $1400 per year, depending upon location.

Dolphin season tickets are included in the price of executive suites and club seats, and lessees will have the right to purchase tickets and occupy their suite and/or club seats for any other events held in the stadium.

In virtually every stadium club in America, annual dues are as much as $1,000. In the new Dolphin Stadium, lessees of an executive suite or a club seat will be provided stadium club privileges, not limited to the confines of an enclosed stadium club, but rather encompassing the entire circumference of the exclusive loge level. The carpeted loge level stadium club area will be accessed by escalator and will feature closed-circuit, large screen TV, a series of bars and grills and attendant service.

Owner Robbie points out that, "This arrangement of executive suites and club seats surrounded by an encircling stadium club is unique and distinctive. It is not available in any current stadium in this country."

It is intended that the new stadium will host many events other than Dolphin NFL football games. In fact, the stadium is designed to be adjustable for major league baseball, if and when a franchise becomes available to South Florida.

Robbie has said that this project is not only a challenge to the Dolphin management, but also to the South Florida community.

"If the civic, corporate and governmental leaders of this area," he said, "backed by the rank and file of our population, help us to market a sufficient number of executive suites and club seats to achieve our marketing goals, together we will erect a monument to regional and civic unification of energy and effort."

"The goal is within sight.

"We expect to cross it.

"By June of 1985, we expect to break ground and have construction under way."

Information regarding Dolphin Stadium executive suites or club seats can be obtained by contacting Dolphin Stadium Corporation, 4770 Biscayne Boulevard, Suite 600, Miami, Florida 33137 or by calling (305) 326-6700.

1984 — Will All the Pieces Fit?

By Andy Cohen

(PRO FOOTBALL WRITER FOR THE FORT LAUDERDALE NEWS/SUN-SENTINEL)

Even in the most bitter moment of defeat, even as the Miami Dolphin players sat slumped in a steamy Orange Bowl locker room last December 31, minutes after their season came to an unexpected halt against the Seattle Seahawks, you could sense a feeling of optimism, a feeling that nearly all the pieces seemed to fit, a feeling that shouted next year would be even better.

Well, next year has arrived.

And the feeling is still there.

"We learned a lot about ourselves in 1983," said Coach Don Shula. "Heading into this season, we feel good about so many things."

Tops on that list is quarterback Dan Marino, back for his second season after an unforgettable, record-setting rookie year that saw him and his powerful right arm come off the bench to lead the Dolphins to an AFC East title and a 12-4 regular season record.

Marino II should be even better than Marino I. Not only has his confidence increased, but he now has a thorough grasp of the Dolphin offense and its personnel. Once again, that offense will be centered around Marino's ability to come up with the big play.

But Marino didn't do it alone in 1983, and he'll need plenty of help this season as well.

He'll need help from a talent-rich offensive line that seems to be getting better with age. Bob Kuechenberg and Ed Newman at guards, Dwight Stephenson at center, and Eric Laakso and Jon Giesler at tackles are entering their fifth season as a unit. Kuechenberg, Newman and Stephenson are coming off Pro Bowl seasons. Keep an eye on third-year player Roy Foster, who may push the 15-year veteran Kuechenberg all the way to the bench.

Marino will also need continued support from a corp of receivers led by Mark "Super" Duper, who played up to his nickname in 1983 by becoming the first Dolphin receiver to catch passes for more than 1,000 yards in a season. Duper's 51 receptions for 1,003 yards included 10 touchdowns and overshadowed some solid performances by fellow receivers Nat Moore, Joe Rose and Mark Clayton.

Jimmy Cefalo, out almost all of last season with a knee injury, is healthy again and should make this group one of the strongest since Miami's championship years.

"Having great receivers makes things a lot easier for me," Marino said. "I developed a good feel for them last season and things should only get better this year. I really feel that way about the whole offense."

But Marino's optimism was tempered by the tragic offseason death of running back David Overstreet, who came on strong late last season and was slated to be the key component in the Dolphin running attack this season. Without Overstreet and his breakaway speed, Shula must find somebody to share playing time with veteran halfback Tony Nathan. Fullbacks Andra Franklin and Woody Bennett handle the power running. But nobody, not even Nathan, can offer the big play potential that Overstreet would have provided.

How well the Dolphins manage without Overstreet and who they find to replace him could become the key to this season — at least on offense.

Defensively, there were adjustments to be made.

Although the Dolphins gave up the fewest points in the NFL last season (250), they had problems stopping the run — particularly in goal line situations.

Shula and new defensive coordinator Chuck Studley agreed what the defense needed was a couple of big, physical linebackers to help stuff opposing ballcarriers.

"We think we got them," Shula said.

They are Jackie Shipp and Jay Brophy, Miami's first two picks in May's NFL draft. Shipp, out of the University of Oklahoma, and Brophy, captain of the University of Miami's National Championship team, both have the ability to help right away. One of them could be in the starting lineup on opening day if veteran A.J. Duhe doesn't recover in time from offseason shoulder and knee surgery.

At the very least, Shipp and Brophy will provide much needed depth in an area that was devastated by injuries last season.

With nose guard Bob Baumhower and defensive end Doug Betters coming off All-Pro seasons and with the other defensive end, Kim Bokamper, having gained both weight and confidence, the defensive line should be one of Miami's strengths. Second-year player Mike Charles, impressive against the run a year ago, will also see plenty of playing time.

The defensive backfield will be helped by the return of cornerback Don McNeal, who sat out all of last season with a ruptured Achilles' tendon.

IN MEMORIAM

LARRY GORDON

Larry Gordon played the game of life as well as he played the game of football, and his loss was even more the loss of a friend and a member of the Dolphin family than it was the loss of one of the most gifted football players ever to play for the Miami Dolphins.

Larry died June 25th in Phoenix, Arizona; he suffered a heart attack caused by a rare heart disease while jogging to keep in shape.

DAVID OVERSTREET

1958 - 1984

For the third time in three years, the Miami Dolphins lost an important member of their football family. Last June 24, running back David Overstreet was killed in an automobile accident in Winona, Texas while traveling to his hometown in nearby Big Sandy. David had been the Dolphins' number one draft choice in 1981, and had displayed his outstanding talent in his Miami debut season of 1983. That the life of another Dolphin player has been senselessly taken is a tragedy to be mourned by those who knew David or who appreciated his unique abilities.

The Miami Dolphins will be playing in Washington, San Diego & Indianapolis, Indiana Join them!!

The Broward Dolphins Booster Club, America's #1 rated Pro Football Fan Club, invites you to join them on the road for fun, excitement & thrills as the Dolphins do battle in 84.

All tours are deluxe packages, including accommodations with the team (or nearby), Round trip air, ground transportation, baggage handling, hotel taxes, game ticket, pre-game meal (3 night tours), souvenir T-Shirt, and priced hundreds of dollars below retail rates and other agencies and club packages.

So don't delay, join today! Space extremely limited on some packages due to game ticket restrictions, & subject to availability. Price based on July air fares and subject to change.

BROWARD DOLPHINS BOOSTER CLUB — #1 EVERY YEAR!!

By Sandy Leach

The word fan refers to many things — some related to air-conditioning or mechanical parts. When it comes to the Miami Dolphins, it usually connotes a person who supports the team. When it refers to a member of the Broward Dolphins Booster Club, it is simply a shortened version of the word "fanatic," for that is precisely what the Club members are — Miami Dolphin fanatics.

The Club had its inception in the Spring of 1971 when Dr. Herb Moselle, a Philadelphia Eagle fan and former sports columnist who had moved his practice to Plantation, was searching for a way to "talk football" with other Pro Football fans. One of his patients was local resident Larry Csonka (a challenge to any nose doctor), and Herb talked Larry into helping organize a Booster Club in Broward County. Moselle gathered his friends together to meet Larry and cohort Jim Kiick for an organizational meeting, and on April 21, 1971, the Broward Dolphins Booster Club was born. By-laws were drawn up, a constitution was established, and goals and structure decided. Herb Moselle was elected President; with Charlie Bird, Stu Shull, Dr. Syl Golden, Phil Miceli, Sandy Leach and Mort Esan elected as officers and board members; and Al Capp was named attorney for the Club. Rick Weaver was contacted, and agreed to act as Master of Ceremonies for the dinner meetings to be held every third week during the season. First year speakers included: Norm Evans, Paul Warfield, Joe Robbie, Dick Anderson, Csonka and Kiick.

A final banquet honoring outstanding performers in different categories resulted in Larry Csonka being named the Club's first "Mr. Professional," honoring performance on and off the field. In the 13 years following, Mr. Professional honorees included: Earl Morrall ('72), Larry Little ('73), Bob Kuechenberg ('74), Norm Evans ('75), Bob Griese ('76), Manny Fernandez ('77), Jim Langer ('78), Steve Towle ('79), Tim Foley ('80), Ed Newman ('81), Jimmy Cefalo ('82), and Nat Moore ('83).

One of the goals of the Booster Club was to show support for the team not only at the Orange Bowl, but on the road as well. During the first few years, other than Super Bowls in '73-'74, the Club limited their role to sending a few people to each away game. It wasn't until 1975 that organized away trips began to take shape. The largest regular season group was held Labor Day Weekend of the 1976 season when 110 Dolphins flew to New Orleans for the sixth and final exhibition game. The record for regular season games stands at 96 when the Dolphins beat the Oilers 13-7 at the Astrodome in October of 1981. Over the last 13 years, organized Booster Club away-game trips have been held 36 times, with the Dolphins victorious in 30 of those games, an astounding record for any team in the NFL. In the last two years, the Dolphins won six of seven away trips attended by the Club during regular season play, lending credence to the theory that support on the road by the Club can turn an away game almost to a home game atmosphere.

In 1974, Sal Picardi took over as President. But in 1975, Picardi was abruptly transferred by his company to Atlanta. Nick Alexander stepped in as President, and to assure future smooth transitions, named Sandy Leach as permanent Executive Director. The club prospered under Alexander's leadership, with membership averaging about 250 members throughout his four-year rein.

Leach was given the task of creating programs, and with help from the Dolphin players, some of the most exciting programs ever held by any Pro Football Booster Club occurred in South Florida. Other Dolphin oriented booster clubs fell on hard times, and by 1976, the Broward group was the only organization left for Dolphins. As a result, the 250-member cap was lifted, and members were invited to join from Dade and Palm Beach counties as well. Today, approximately 40% of the membership is derived from areas outside Broward County, with members from Key West to Alaska, many attending Dolphin away trips in their hometowns around the NFL.

Some of the Club's programs are unique — all are imaginative. In 1975, the Club honored the Dolphin offensive line as the team's MVP, with Curt Gowdy as guest speaker. In 1976, it was "This Is Your Life — Earl Morrall," with CBS' Brent Musberger handling the Ralph Edwards' role to perfection. Five hundred fifty Dolfans gathered at the Inverrary Country Club knowing only that Earl was being honored, but not the format. They were treated to a procession of celebrities from Earl's past including grade school, high school and college cronies he hadn't seen in years, and Pro Football's finest who had crossed paths with Earl during his 21-year NFL tenure through six teams. Tributes from Hall of Famer Joe Schmidt, Congressman Jack Kemp with a personal citation from President Ford, and a Who's Who in NFL History came forth to reminisce with Earl. Garo Yepremian ended the evening dressed as an old Earl Morrall with a musical tribute that was filmed for the following week's NFL Today national TV show.

But the following year, in 1977, during Super Bowl week, perhaps the largest event ever to be attempted by the Booster Club was held for the benefit of the newly-formed Don Shula Scholarship Foundation. Leach was given the task of working with Coach Shula to inaugurate the Club's own charity in Shula's honor. Acting as temporary Executive Director of the Foundation, Leach was asked to seek ways to raise funds for needy high school scholar-athletes to attend college without benefit of athletic scholarship. The means selected was a reunion of the 1972 Miami Dolphins. Eleven hundred tuxedo-clad fans gathered on January 17 to pay tribute to 42 returning members of that undefeated, untied team, with Howard Cosell serving as main speaker and other speakers including NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle. With money raised, Don Shula was named chairman, and Dolores Berwick permanent executive director.

The 1978 season saw the beginning of the Stu Whiteman era as President of the Club. Programs were limited to once a month. Pre-season events such as cruises and picnics were established.

In 1977, a new program, Gourmet Night, had come into being as the official Club fund-raiser, replacing Casino nights (under scrutiny at that time). The Inverrary Country Club donated its facility and kitchen for the evening, and gourmet cooks among the Dolphins were asked to create some imaginative dishes. Clams Den Herder, Beef Nottingham, Heinz '72 Tomato Catch-Up, Hungarian Bulaich, Starwberries Matheson, and Fettucini Fernandez were actually cooked by the players bearing their names, under the tutelage of famed chef Ralph Varketta.

Whiteman's first act was to move the evening from the smaller Inverrary facility to the Turnberry Isle Country Club, and designate the proceeds to benefit the Shula Foundation. An auction was added, and as the program grew, players were limited in the kitchen to serving wine and dessert; and along with their wives, to serve as models for a fashion show. Today, it is our largest event of the year, sold out each year, and usually held the second week in October. From Breast of Chicken Little, Non-Griese, to such culinary delicacies as Foley Mignon, Veal Vigorito, Sea-Shull Surf and Hardy Turf, New-Maine Lobster, Baked A'Laakso, Coupe Ma'Rhone and Terry Ro-bisquets have been served in the last seven years.

Local merchants and club members have all donated merchandise, week-ends, dinners, cruises and valuable gifts to raise over $50,000 for the Foundation since its inception. The Club also honors all new Dolphins the second September of the season with a dinner and special gift bearing the player's name and welcoming him to the South Florida community. November is Special Event Time with unusual programs varying each year, and December is the time for the Annual Christmas Party and Awards Program. Among the nine presentations made are the Nick Alexander Memorial Mr. Professional Award (named after the Club's deceased former leader) and the Larry Gordon Mr. Defense Award (honoring the player who passed away just seven months after receiving the award himself). The Club was the first to honor a special teams' player in South Florida, and other awards include Mr. Offense, Mr. Consistency, Mr. Versatility, Rookie of the Year, and the Rusty Chambers 110% Memorial Award to a player overcoming the most odds to make a significant contribution to the team.

One of the prime activities bringing the players, coaches and members together have been the Pre-Season Cruises, usually held in June prior to the start of training camp. The first three held were weekend jaunts to the Bahamas, but public demand inaugurated our fourth cruise in 1981 of a seven-day nature. The SS Norway was selected and 145 fans joined the P.M. Magazine crew and nine players to cruise the Caribbean to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. P.M. finished the Booster Club special by joining us in Houston on an away game trip. The resultant T.V. exposure was to play a significant role in publicizing the Club. A similar cruise aboard the Song of Norway was held in 1982 with 11 players and coaches aboard. In 1983, the cruises were split to allow the players to make one trip, and coaches and ex-players another. Coaches Shula, Taseff and David Shula joined ex-Dolphin legends Bob Griese, Earl Morrall and Monte Clark for a ten-day Dolphin Love Boat Cruise to Alaska, joined by 70 excited Dolfans. 1984 marked a Quarterback Legend Mexican Riviera Cruise, and a reunion aboard the S.S. Norway with 115 passengers including 14 Dolphin stars, and P.M. Magazine once again along to film the festivities, including our Olympic year tribute, the DOL-FUN Olympics.

The Broward Dolphins Booster Club currently operates at least 12 activities annually for its members, and is open to all Dolfans 21 years of age or older who want to have fun and make the most of their Dolphin lives. Family memberships are $30 for new members, and $20 annually each year for all Dolfans regardless of where they live. Membership information and applications may be obtained by writing to: Broward Dolphins Booster Club, Inc., P.O. Box 15306, Plantation, FL 33317, or calling Stu Whiteman at 463-8119 weekdays, 473-0141 evenings and weekends. Join the 500 strong and dedicated who make up America's #1 Fan Club, and dedicated to America's #1 team — The Miami Dolphins!

McNeal may have a difficult time regaining his starting job since both Gerald Small and William Judson are coming off excellent seasons. Judson, who replaced McNeal, led the team with six interceptions. As always — or so it seems — the Blackwood Brothers, Glenn and Lyle, offer stability and consistent play at the two safety positions. Mike Kozlowski and Paul Lankford provide good depth.

Under Studley's direction, the defense will concentrate on winning more one-on-one confrontations as opposed to the cerebral approach utilized by former defensive coordinator Bill Arnsperger. Studley believes the Dolphins have enough talent to win without stunting and changing defenses on every play.

The kicking game is in excellent shape with punter Reggie Roby and place-kicker Uwe von Schamann.

"I believe we have as much talent as any team in the league," Kuechenberg said. "We've got a great, young quarterback and an outstanding coach. It's hard not to look forward to this season with a lot of excitement."

They call me the "stat man"

I've been following the Dolphins since '66. From Griese to Marino, I know them all. Every game. Every stat. They're my football team, and the News/Sun-Sentinel is my paper! When I can't go to the game, I study my News/Sun-Sentinel. They cover every play. If the Dolphins did it, the News/Sun-Sentinel's got it. If you really follow the Dolphins like me, you've gotta read the News/Sun-Sentinel.

PHOTO FLASHBACK

Even the Miami Dolphin players were "just kids" once. Like everyone else, some of them sported broad grins or shy smiles, turned-up noses, freckles, and big bright smiles. From old family albums comes this collection of "flashback photos."

See if you can recognize any of these faces, now familiar to Dolphin fans. (Names to match the numbers are printed upside down at the bottom of this page).

DOLPHINS ON THE AIR

RADIO

In 1984, the Miami Dolphins' radio network will consist of 24 stations with Miami's WIOD (AM-610) again serving as the flagship station. WIOD has been the originator of Dolphin broadcasts since the team's 1966 inception. Known throughout South Florida as "Someplace Special For Sports," WIOD's Dolphin coverage is among the most comprehensive in the NFL. The station begins its game day coverage two hours before kickoff with "The Orange Bowl Express" including player features, key matchups in the upcoming game, plus other pertinent information from around the NFL. Also included in the pre-game package is "The Don Shula Show" featuring a preview of the day's contest by the Dolphins' head coach. Following the game, "The Locker Room Show" keeps listeners up-to-date on all other games around the league and also includes interviews from both the Dolphin and opposing locker rooms with the key players from that day's game.

Handling the play-by-play for his 14th season will be the "Voice of the Dolphins," Rick Weaver. A seasoned broadcaster with nationally-known credentials, Weaver is a nine-time recipient of the Florida Sportscaster of the Year award. Joining Weaver in the broadcast booth will be color commentator Hank Goldberg while Henry Barrow patrols the Dolphin sideline giving listeners up-to-the-minute reports on the day's action.

WQBA

Once again in 1984, the Dolphins' fans throughout South Florida can hear Miami Dolphin football on WQBA (FM-108). This will be the third straight season of the Dolphins' agreement with "Super Q."

Again handling the Spanish play-by-play will be Jorge Cunill. In addition to his broadcasting responsibilities, Cunill is also the editor of Mundo Deportivo, a South Florida sports publication. He will again be joined in the booth by color analysts Rene Giraldo and Eduardo Lujan.

PRE-SEASON TV

For the second consecutive season, WCIX-TV (Channel 6, Miami) will televise the pre-season games of the Miami Dolphins. This year's three-game package (the August 19 game at L.A. Raiders will be shown nationally by NBC) will kick off Saturday, August 4 as the Dolphins host the Indianapolis Colts in the Orange Bowl. Also included on the schedule are pre-season road contests with the Minnesota Vikings and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

ESPN's Roger Twibell will again anchor the three-man announce team, serving as play-by-play commentator. Twibell will be joined by ex-Dolphin superstar Bob Griese who will serve as color analyst while WCIX Sports Director Andy Leopold will report from the Miami sideline.
